

Chief Commercial Officer Diane Sullivan

Diane Sullivan joined The Medicines Company in November 2018 as Chief Commercial Officer. Diane is an accomplished commercial executive with extensive global leadership experience. She brings proven marketing, market access and sales success in life sciences, consumer healthcare and technology. She has launch and in-line experience from rare diseases to blockbusters in a broad range of therapeutic categories, including cardiovascular disease.

Prior to her current role, Diane was Vice President of Market Access & Patient Strategies at AstraZeneca where she had responsibility for over 500 customer relationships that delivered sales of over $20 billion. Previously, she was Vice President, Specialty Care Payer & Channel Group at Pfizer leading specialty care strategy for business-to-business customers. Diane served as Executive Director of Worldwide Business Development and Strategy at GlaxoSmithKline. Diane began her career at IBM and graduated from IBM's MBA program. She holds a Bachelor of Arts from Dickinson College.

Diane currently serves on the Board of OrthogenRX.
